OUR USE OF COOKIES

WHAT ARE COOKIES?

A cookie is a small data file that is placed on your browser or the hardware of your computer or other device to allow a website to recognise you as a user when you return to the website, either directly or through a third party. Cookies are used to store information about your preferences, such as your name, email address, and password. Cookies also help us to improve our website by tracking how you use it. For more information, please see our Cookie Notice to refer to all files that collect information in this way.

Cookie Notice to

Cookies are an extremely common technology for remembering certain information about a visitor to a website. The vast majority of websites currently make use of cookies and they are commonly used for a wide range of tasks. Our Site uses cookies for the following purposes:

- Strictly necessary cookies. These are cookies that are required for the operation of our Site. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our Site.
- Analytical cookies. They allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our Site when they are using them. This helps us to improve the way our Sites work, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily. Our Site uses Google Analytics cookies (<https://support.google.com/analytics/answer/6004245>), though other technologies can be used as the Site changes to provide enhanced functionality.
- Functionality cookies. These are used to recognise you when you return to our Site and to embed functionality from third party services. This enables us to personalise our content for you, greet you by name, and remember your preferences.
- Advertising cookies. These cookies record your visit to our Site, the pages you have visited on our Site and others and the links you have followed. We will use this information to make the advertising displayed to you more relevant to your interests. We do not share this information with third parties, except for the parties who are collecting these in the process of hosting our Site.
- Third Party cookies. We also use and work with a number of third party suppliers and partners who set or read cookies on our Site. These can be individual or a combination of Social media cookies/plugins like Facebook, Instagram and Google+ buttons, and, Embedded third party content like, maps or videos. We do not have any control over these cookies. Whilst we provide a summary of the third party cookies used in the table below, you should also check the relevant third party's privacy policy for more information about how these cookies are used.

HOW TO CONTROL AND DELETE COOKIES

We had to use a cookie to present you with that notice (you can see details of this cookie under 'Cookie Banner' in the table below). If you continue to use our Site, more cookies and other tracking technologies could be placed on your computer as described in this Cookie Notice in order to enhance your user experience whilst on the Site. By continuing to use the Site and/or by accepting our Terms of Use, you are agreeing to the use of such cookies and tracking technology.

If you wish to restrict or block the cookies which are set by the Site (or, indeed, on any other site) you can do this through your browser settings. The 'Help' function within your browser should tell you how. Alternatively, you may wish to visit <http://www.allaboutcookies.org/> which contains comprehensive information on how to do this on a wide variety of browsers. You will also find details on how to delete cookies from your computer, as well as more general information about cookies. Please note that, as these websites are not owned or operated by us, we are not responsible for any of the content on them.

We may make changes to this Cookie Notice at any time by posting a copy of them on our Site. Any changes will be effective based on the posting date of the notice. Your continued use of our Site after that period expires means that you agree to be bound by the modified Cookie Notice.
